

Photobooth Faces

Your kids can be whoever they want to be with photobooth faces. They could be a princess or a pirate, an astronaut or a unicorn.

Find a tall piece of cardboard and cut a hole near the top for their face to pop through. Then, they can draw or paint whatever they want to transform into different characters. Get creative, then take turns at snapping photos of each other in the photobooth.

Adult supervision is required.